"You made my day"

Once a trooper, always a trooper

'Tell us something good, Colonel," requested Indiana State Police Superintendent Douglas Carter of Robert (Bob) Cline Wednesday during a surprise visit to the River Terrace Health Campus.

Cline, 92, is a River Terrace resident. He has pancreatic cancer and made the decision not to undergo treatment.

"Dad is quite comfortable with his diagnosis," said Mandy Ferris, Cline's only daughter. "The doctor and staff at River Terrace are very skilled and compassionate and have assured me that he will be treated with the utmost respect and any symptoms or discomfort will be well managed.'

Mandy and Carter were only two of Cline's visitors Wednesday. They were joined by some of Cline's friends — Jim White, Jim Grant and Dave Adams — and some his brothers in blue — ISP Troopers Nate Adams and Stephen Stoneking.

'The superintendent coming to see you is something special," said Cline.

Cline quickly turned the visit into something special for everyone in the room with his sense of humor and stories from his life and career in law enforcement.

'What is a tractor or a trailer?" Mandy asked her father.

Cline explained to the room that once he was in court and the presiding judge asked him about a ticket he issued to a man driving a "tractor trailer." Which was he driving, the judge asked, a tractor or a trailer?

"I wasn't really sure how to answer him," said Cline. The room filled with laughter.

"We're pretty proud of him here," said Nate Adams of Cline.

Cline began his career as a trooper with the

Indiana State Police after serving in the Army Air Corps in World War II and completing a two-year certificate from Indiana University's Institute of Criminal Law He is one of few who started as a trooper and was promoted through the ranks into the superintendent's office. He served as the assistant superintendent to Supt. John T. Shettle before he retired from ISP in 1981. After that he served as the chief of police at Hanover College for seven

Throughout his career he served in several counties in southeastern Indiana and has many stories from each.

Cline told the room how he and other officers used to drive through Brookville in Franklin County at night and turn on their sirens and lights to scare people out of the saloons.

Mandy said the bar owners said he was "good for business" because the customers often switched bars after officers like Cline made a pass through town.

Mandy shared some stories of her own, too. She told the group she practically grew up at the Connersville Police Post. She remembers watching the officers use the radio and file reports. She also told the group she roller skated in the indoor gun range and described it

"You're like Clint Eastwood: You made my day," said Bob Cline to his group of visitors Wednesday afternoon. (Courier staff photos by Trenton Scroggins/tscroggins@madisoncourier.com) as the perfect space for skating.

Nate Adams came to the visit Wednesday afternoon with a folder filled with pictures. He printed the pictures from Cline's collection on > the website Cline created after retiring from the Indiana State Police. Cline used his computer skills to make MadisonCameRunning.com as a tribute to Madison, the town he and his late wife, Rita, called

'My mother and father were married in Madison almost 70 years ago. Eight years ago, my mother passed in KDH not far from dad's current room," Mandy said. "Madison holds a special place in our family's heart and life.

I appreciate

all the help

and kindness the people of Madison have shown both of my parents." Nate Adams passed the pictures around as Cline told stories related to them or told everyone what year they were taken. Some of them were from Nate's graduation ceremony from the academy. Cline, Nate and Dave Adams joked about how hard it was for Cline to get the pin through Nate's shirt.

"People need to remember how unique and special Madison is and how important it is to keep investing, building and rejuvenating that jewel of the Ohio," Mandy observed.

Cline worked hard to do his part to remind people how special Madison was through MadisonCameRunning. His website is well-known for its sharing of photos and stories of local people and visitors as well as its attention to the Madison Regatta and many other special events of the city.

The Madison Courier reported in 2007 that "he started a Web site to tell people as close as next door and as far as continents away about Madison, where to go and what to do, show them pictures of people they'd recognize, keep them updated about the Miss Madison hydroplane, inform them when the paddlewheel boats would be visiting and provide links to local businesses and other Madison-related sites.'

Cline received the Lieutenant Governor's Hoosier Hospitality Award in 2007 for the work he did through his website. He told the Courier that year that he spent two or three hours each day working on the website.

> "Dad loves that he has visitors every day," said Mandy. "That is a part of the wonderful sense of community in Madison. Dad worked daily on his website, MadisonCameRunning, in honor of his and my mom's love for Madison."

> > Carter presented Cline with an Honorary Superintendent badge at the end of the visit.

"I want to thank the superintendent and all the members of the Indiana State Police, the local law enforcement, and the wonderful people of Madison for embracing both my parents and continuing to value them in their fragile senior years," said Mandy.

You're never ex," said one of Cline's friends after he referred to himself as an "ex-trooper."

"You always remain a trooper," Cline corrected himself.

Downtown focus of Monday gathering

Courier staff report

Madison Main Street will host a public meeting at the Red Bicycle Hall at 6:30 p.m. Monday as part of a two-day transformation workshop to analyze market-driven strategies for Madison's historic downtown.

"In December, we asked people to respond to a survey about our downtown," said Victoria Perry, executive director of Madison Main Street. "This will be a chance to hear the results of the survey, as to explore observations and recommendations from an experienced downtown consultant familiar with the needs of rural communities."

The public meeting, led by National Main Street Center Program Officer Kathy LaPlante, will share results of a recent downtown market survey and engage the public in identifying gaps and opportunities to strengthen the downtown

The Main Street team will lead groups of stakeholders through other activities and focus groups as part of the two-day workshop.

The workshop is a service provided by the Indiana Main Street Program through the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs.

"Seven Indiana Main Street communities were selected to participate in these workshops," said Jodi Golden, executive director of the community and rural affairs office. "Our goal is to help communities develop a comprehensive set of market strategies to guide their efforts for the next three to five years."

"We would love for people to come on Monday night," said Perry. "This is everyone's opportunity to create a vibrant downtown and maintain a vibrant downtown...it takes more than just those on Main Street so it would be great for people from all of downtown to participate."

Doors will open at 6 p.m. A cash bar and dessert table will be available. For info contact Victoria Perry at madisonmainstreetprogram@ gmail.com or 812-274-0195.

Anderson firefighters give truck to Deputy company

Courier staff report

It hasn't been a month yet and the Deputy Volunteer Fire Department has received a second truck after losing three in a blaze that destroyed its firehouse Dec. 17.

The Anderson, Indiana, Fire Department has donated a 2000 Pierce fire

Support has poured in from the local community and beyond to try to help the department replace its necessary equipment, Fire Chief Mike Hazelwood has said.

• On Dec. 20, 2018, the Deputy Fire Department posted thanks on Facebook for donations from a chili supper and basketball events at Deputy Elementary School.

• On Dec. 21, the department posted thanks to the German Township Volunteer Fire Department of Vanderburgh County, which donated it 1979 Pierce pumper to them instead of selling the vehicle.

• On Dec. 23, 2018, Deputy shared news of borrowed equipment - air packs and bottles and a ground monitor

- from Scottsburg Fire. That same day, they were talking with Hanover Fire about borrowing a tanker truck until they were able to replace those that were lost.

More help is ahead.

The Kent Volunteer Fire Company will have a fish fry to benefit the Deputy department from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 2. All proceeds from the event will go directly to helping Deputy rebuild.

Those who wish to make a monetary donation to help the Deputy Fire Department can mail a check or money order, made out to Deputy Volunteer Fire Department, to PO Box 135 Deputy, IN 47230. The department asks donors to place a return address on the envelope. Contact Chief Mike Hazelwood (812)

Indiana issuing food stamps early because of shutdown

Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS - Indiana plans to issue February's food stamp benefits next week for hundreds of thousands of Hoosiers because of the partial federal government shutdown. The state's Family and Social Services Administration said Friday it will distribute February's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits on Jan. 19 for about 585,000 Indiana residents. Indiana's SNAP benefits are usually issued to recipients over a 19-day period each month. But the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service has directed states to issue February's benefits early as a one-time early benefit because of the ongoing government shutdown. The FSSA says it's "strongly" encouraging Indiana's SNAP recipients to budget the benefits they'll receive next week to ensure that they'll cover their food needs throughout February. January's SNAP benefits are being distributed according to the normal schedule.

4 flu deaths so far in state this season

INDIANAPOLIS - The Indiana State Department of Health says four people have died of the flu so far this season. The department in its weekly influenza report Friday for the week ending Jan. 5 says three of the people who died were older than 65 and one was between 50 and 64. It did not say where the deaths occurred. WTHR-TV reports that at this same point last year, Indiana had 50 flu-related deaths. The Centers for Disease Control and revention has said the entire country is experiencing a much milder flu season this vear so far.

Arrest in 1-465 fatal shooting tied to rage

INDIANAPOLIS — Indiana State Police detectives arrested a Camby man Friday for his involvement in a shooting on I-465 on Dec. 27, 2018 in the northbound lanes near 56th Street on the city's west side. Detectives believe a road rage incident led to shots being fired from one vehicle into another while driving along the interstate. There were no injuries reported, however bullet holes were located in the victim's driver's side door. Police arrested Billy Robinson, 37, on charges of criminal recklessness with a firearm and pointing a firearm.

Holcomb sued over increased toll road fees

INDIANAPOLIS — A group of truck drivers is suing Gov. Eric Holcomb over a 35 percent fee increase placed on large trucks that use the Indiana Toll Road. The Owner-Operator Independent Drivers Association Inc., Utah-based Chutka Trucking LLC, Indiana truck driver Mark Elrod and Ohio-based B.L. Reever Transport Inc. filed a federal lawsuit Wednesday challenging the constitutionality of the fee hike, The Indianapolis Business Journal reported. The suit alleges the increase is discriminatory and excessive, and that truck drivers won't benefit from the hike because the revenue will be used for projects unrelated to the toll road, which runs across the northern part of the state from the Illinois state line to the Ohio state line. Holcomb's office said they disagreed with the lawsuit's allegations. Holcomb in September announced that the toll road operator, Indiana Toll Road Concession Company, would increase tolls in exchange for $1 billion for state infrastructure improvements over the next several years. The funds would be used to expand broadband access, add biking and hiking trails, improve roadways and attract more direct international flights. An amendment agreement directs the toll road operator to invest an additional $50 million into

Holcomb budget plan to end Amtrak subsidy

INDIANAPOLIS - Gov.Eric Holcomb's proposed state budget would end Indiana's annual subsidy for an Amtrak line that runs between Indianapolis and Chicago. Under the proposed budget, the Hoosier State Line would no longer receive $3 million in annual state support after June 30, 2019. for the Indianapolis-to-Chicago passenger line, which has stops in Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Rensselaer and Dyer. Amtrak spokesman Marc Magliari declined to comment, citing the early stage of Indiana's budget process. Amtrak took over the line's operations in 2017 after a private contractor ended its deal to run the trains over concerns it wasn't making enough money from a deal with Amtrak and the Indiana Department of Transportation.

Kentucky

Legislature forms pension work group

FRANKFORT - After a tumultuous year of failed attempts to change one of the country's worst-funded public pension systems, legislature is hitting the reset button. Lawmakers on Friday announced a bipartisan "pension working group" to review the pension systems structure, costs, benefits and funding with a goal of coming up with a proposal that can pass the legislature with bipartisan support after a bill was forced through but struck down last month by the state Supreme Court. The year ended when Republican Gov. Matt Bevin called the legislature back in session to pass a version of the bill again, but lawmakers could not reach an agreement and adjourned. The 14-member working group consists of 10 Republicans and four Democrats. It includes some of the Senate's top leadership, including GOP Senate President Robert Stivers and Minority Leader Morgan McGarvey.

17 absentee ballots in disputed House race

FRANKFORT - A Republican-dominated board of lawmakers investigating a Democrat's election by a one-vote margin has obtained 17 unopened absentee ballots from the local county clerk's office. Democrat Jim Glenn defeated Republican state Rep. DJ Johnson by one vote in the November election.

The Kentucky State Board of Elections certified Glenn as the winner, but Johnson has asked the Republican-controlled House of Representatives for a recount. Kentucky state law allows for the House itself, not the courts, to oversee election challenges of its members. Johnson's lawyers have focused on 17 absentee ballots that were not counted in the November election for various reasons, including missing signatures from the voters who mailed them. Those ballots had been stored at the Daviess County Clerk's office. But Wednesday, a police officer took those ballots on behalf of a nine-person legislative committee that is investigating the election. David Floyd, chief of staff for the House Republican Caucus, says the ballots are locked in a safe in the House clerk's office. Glenn's lawyer, Anna Whites, says those ballots are "spoiled evidence" because there is no way to prove the ballots have not been "tampered with, opened, altered or otherwise changed from its original condition."

Senate votes to shift way principals chosen

FRANKFORT — The Senate passed a bill Friday to shift the authority for selecting school principals, a move detractors said would weaken the role of school-based decision making councils created by the state's landmark education law. The measure would transfer that power away from the councils and give it to school superintendents. The councils in selecting principals. After a long debate, the bill cleared the Senate on a 23-13 vote and next goes to the House. It was one of two education-related bills passed by the Senate on Friday before Kentucky lawmakers headed home after four days of mostly organizational and bill introduction work to start the 2019 session. The legislature resumes its session in early February. The legislation dealing with the selection of school principals revolved around a debate over the appropriate balance of power in school districts statewide.

Oil-well driller gets 4 vears for investor scam

LEXINGTON - An oilwell driller who worked in Kentucky and Tennessee has been sentenced to four years in prison for scamming investors. The Lexington Herald-Leader reported Ronnie C. Rodgers, 63, was also sentenced Tuesday to a year of home detention. Rodgers was convicted last year of conspiring to commit fraud. He maintains his innocence. Authorities say Rodgers solicited well money from investors for areas he knew produced little oil, but that he promised would produce up to 200 barrels a day. Court documents say investor losses totaled more than $3.5 million. They say Rodgers was barred from selling Kentucky oil-well investments, but circumvented the ban by setting up other companies.

Sister's communication has changed

has changed

drastically.

Dear Annie: I am writing to ask your opinion about the change in my sister's behavior toward me. I have two sisters, and the one I am speaking of is my elder sister, "Ruth."

Ruth has always been envious of my younger sister and me and resented the close relationship I had with our father.

Until recently, Ruth would call me about once a week to say hello and check on me. I would call and say hello to her. She lives about 2 1/2 hours away from me. Her husband passed away suddenly, and it was some time after that when I noticed a difference in the way she relates to me. Her calls have been less frequent. When I call her, she has very little to say and then says she has to go. I don't believe she has a health problem. She is still working. Her children live nearby.

On her birthday, I sent a card and called her. She was polite but guarded in her conversa-

Dear Puzzled Sister: Consider the possibility that she's acting distant not just toward you but toward everyone. She may be suffering from depression triggered by her husband's passing — or at the very least be grieving deeply. People can seem to be in perfectly good health on the outside but be hurting badly on the inside.

her children -- not speaking ill of their mother or causing undue concern but simply asking whether all is well with them and with her. Maybe your nieces and nephews have noticed the change in her behavior, too, and will be glad you asked.

Lastly, let go of the idea that Ruth has always been envious of you and your sister. That kind of baggage is what piles up between family members, preventing real communication.

Dear Annie: In this country, how many young people ever ask for advice from older generations on anything? Almost

4 on trial over theft of huge gold coin from Berlin Museum

BERLIN (AP) — Four young men went on trial in Germany Thursday over the brazen theft of a 221-pound Canadian gold coin that disappeared from a Berlin museum two years ago.

Two brothers and their cousin, identified in German media as 24-year-old Wayci Remmo, 20-year-old Ahmed Remmo and 22-year-old Wissam Remmo, are accused of stealing the "Big Maple Leaf" coin from the Bode Museum in March

The fourth suspect, identified only as 20-year-old Dennis W., worked as a security guard at in a wheelbarrow. They are the museum, which is located in the heart of the German capital. He is accused of scouting out the scene of the crime.

The opening of the trial at Berlin's district court drew intense media interest in Germany because of the Hollywood-style nature of the heist and their families' alleged ties to organized crime.

Prosecutors believe that the Remmos smashed a protective case and then managed to lift the coin out of a museum window before fleeing along a rail track with their haul suspected of later cutting up the coin, valued at about 3.75 million euros ($4.33 million), and selling the pieces.

The men's lawyers have denied the accusations leveled against their clients and accused prosecutors of presenting no evidence linking them to the theft.

If convicted, the men could face up to 10 years' imprisonment for serious theft, though the three youngest defendants may be sentenced as juveniles because they were under 21 at the time of the crime.

Take your time and do the groundwork necessary to keep things running smoothly. Expect the unexpected, and be prepared to counter any negative action that comes your way. Offer kindness, compassion and sincerity, but don't feel you must pay for others. Protect your personal and financial interests.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Arguing will be a waste of time. A physical activity is encouraged and will help you calm down, keep the peace and defuse a festering problem.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — A financial gain is possible. If you look over your personal papers, you will discover something that will lead to a surprise. Celebrate with a loved one.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Don't let the actions of others lead you astray. Concentrate on doing what you can to help those less fortunate or to repay a favor. Getting involved in indulgent behavior is discouraged.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take a break and stop laboring over work-related dilemmas. Pay close attention to your health, and make choices that will ensure your happiness. Romance is highlighted.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Research new possibilities. Go directly to the source of whatever you want to investigate. Something you learn will sway a decision regarding your beliefs or vocational direction.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Don't share your plans until you have everything in place. Surprising others will help you alleviate interference and encourage greater support. Your plans will encourage a closer relationship with a loved CANCER (June 21-July 22) Anger won't solve a pending problem. Take a serious approach to whatever you want to pursue, and only include those who have something to contribute to your success. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) – Spread your wings and fly. Learn and experience all you can. Make time for a loved one and express your feelings and intentions. A personal change looks auspicious.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Don't get bogged down by people trying to upset you. Step outside any drama and enjoy what life has to offer. Socializing will do you good.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — Avoid discussions that might disrupt your home and personal lives. Give yourself a chance to think about what's going on. An outing with someone you enjoy being around is encouraged.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Live and learn. What you experience and discover today will help you make choices that will map out your future. Plan an outing that could lead to an interesting revelation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — You can have fun without going overboard. Aim to accomplish a lot by putting your energy into a constructive project that will improve your home and relationships with loved ones.

Monday, January 14, 2019 Stick to your plan to the end.

This year isn't about a race; it's about getting things done properly. Refuse to let anyone talk you into cutting corners. If you don't feel comfortable with your actions, stress will set in. Have patience, eliminate excess and get things done.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan.

19) — Suggestions are only guidelines. When it comes to getting things done, don't lose sight of the rules, schedules and the importance of details. Organization and preparation are fundamental if you want to AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — Opportunities are all around you. Don't try to do everything at once. Choose what will bring you the greatest return physically and emotionally, and do your very best.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — Keep the ball rolling and help everyone who needs it. If you offer aid, suggestions and kindness to others, you will enrich your life. Someone from your past will want to reconnect. Proceed with caution.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Double-check everything before you make a move. Consider whether a change is in your best interest. Focus on personal improvements, not on changing others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Learn all you can and finish what you start. You have great potential, and if you apply your skills, expertise and knowledge, you will reach your GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't believe what you are told just because you want to. Ask for verification before you make a mistake. Anger will not solve anything. Nurture important relationships.

CANCER (June 21-July

22) — Look for original ways to overcome problems. If you work alongside people who share your beliefs, you'll form new alliances and boost your chances of success.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — A change will do you good, but make sure your reasoning is sound before you get started. Personal opportunities are apparent, along with romance and creative projects that will improve your life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) - You'll discover a new interest if you socialize. Discussing your opinions will draw both negative and positive responses, which will prompt you to do something that will make a difference in your community.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) - Take physical action and make improvements to your appearance, how you deal with relationships and how you effect change. Procrastinating will not solve problems.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — The results you get will be directly linked to the way you handle others. Stick to the truth, take a unique approach and back away from anyone who is extravagant or mislead-

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Make adjustments at home that will lead to an easier life. Personal improvement is favored, as long as you don't go over budget. Don't let a smooth talker take advantage of you.

The second half of the deal's story

By Phillip Alder

Yesterday, we looked at how Arturo Franco from Italy made five clubs on this deal, Board 66 of 176 in the final of the 1983 Bermuda Bowl world team championship in Stockholm. (Franco was a great player who gave up world championships soon after this because he refused to fly anywhere.)

In the given auction, Bob Hamman reached a tenuous four-heart contract on a 4-3 fit. But if you ever want someone to declare in a tricky contract like this, Hamman is an excellent choice.

Hamman won the first trick with his spade king and played a heart to the nine. Giorgio Belladonna (East) falsecarded with the queen, then returned a spade to dummy's ace.

Declarer cashed the heart ace and played a heart to his king, hoping for a 3-3 split. Then, he would have given up a club and made his contract. But when Benito Garozzo (West) showed out, Hamman was in big trouble. If he had run the club 10 to East's king, Belladonna would have drawn Hamman's last trump, and the defenders could have taken a lot of tricks in spades and diamonds for down five or six!

However, what else could Hamman do? He led the club 10, and Garozzo covered with the queen! Dummy's ace also collected the king, and suddenly there was a light at the end of the tunnel. Hamman led out the clubs and lost only two hearts and one diamond.

3 state police troopers honored moted to the rank of corporal the west side of Indianapolis

Courier staff report

INDIANAPÔLIS — Sgt. Dennis Scudder, a native of Vevay and a 1978 graduate of Switzerland County High School was among three members of the 50th Indiana State Police Recruit Academy honored last month for completing 25 years of service.

"These three men are great troopers, great leaders and most importantly great people," said Indianapolis District Commander Lieutenant Jeff Payne. "For more than 25 years they have committed their lives to the safety of their communities, which is deserving of recognition. The knowledge and experience they have passed to younger troopers is essential in the evolution of our professional organization"

After high school Scudder received a bachelor's degree from the University of Indianapolis. On graduation from the academy Scudder began his career at Indiana State Police Indianapolis District. Scudder's father, John Scudder, was the First Sergeant of the Versailles District. Scudder worked road patrol in Marion and Shelby Counties. In 2011 he was proand served as the district duty officer for the Indianapolis regional dispatch center until receiving the promotion to sergeant in 2013. He is a supervisor for a squad of troopers assigned to the southeast area of the district. Sgt. David Cox Sr. is native of Hendricks County and a

1985 graduate of Cascade High School. Cox attended both Purdue University and IUPUI. He now serves as a supervisor for a group of troopers assigned to and Hendricks County. His son David Cox Jr. recently joined the Indiana State Police and is assigned to the Putnamville

Sgt. Jeffrey Rader is a native of Danville Indiana and a 1987 graduate of Danville High School. Rader attended IUPUI. In 2014 Rader transferred to the Indianapolis District where he is a squad supervisor for troopers assigned to the northern part of the district.

Trucks from the Indiana Department of Transportation pretreated roads through Friday evening, while shoppers stormed Kroger and Walmart in preparation for the large snow front predicted to move through the area this weekend.

Shoppers crammed the checkout lines in Kroger, leaving little to no room to maneuver through the front of the store, while vehicles wandered the outer perimeters of both Walmart and Kroger parking lots in search of a parking spot.

"Isn't this crazy?" shopper news release said. Suzy Ashbury of Madison commented about Kroger's high traffic. "I just wanted breakfast tomorrow — needed some bacon."

According to the National Weather Service, the Courierarea is expected to receive this weekend three to six inches of snow — starting last night and can expect one to two inches more today.

New coordinator for Healthy Communities Initiative

Courier staff report

King's Daughters' Health and the Healthy Communities Initiative of Jefferson County announced this week that they have found a new initiative coordinator for the Healthy Communities of Jefferson

"For the past 30 years, I have worked in higher education as an administrator in two community college systems. Many of the same health problems facing the community also face community college students," said Keith Howard, who took over the position Jan. 7. "Substance abuse, suicide prevention, and healthy living are issues that I have had to address in my previous positions. I am experienced in facilitating groups and helping them to achieve consensus so that the group can move forward and achieve its goals."

Howard is replacing Carri Dirksen, who stepped down when she and her husband moved away from Madison after he took a job out of state.

Howard most recently was vice president of student affairs for the Colorado Community College System. He previously was the senior student affairs officer for the four campuses of Ivy Tech Community College Northwest.

Keith Howard

"I was asked if we would be comfortable living and working in a small community after living in Indianapolis, Northwest Indiana, and the Denver area. I grew up in a small town in northeast Indiana and went to college in a small town in Indiana. My wife lived in a small town as well," said Howard. "We love living in Madison and have been pleasantly surprised what it has to offer, such as the shows sponsored by the Madison Performing Arts Foundation. We moved here in August, so we are looking forward to experiencing the Regatta and the other summer activities." Keith and his wife, Karen, relocated to Madison to be closer to family after living and working out of state for several years. She is an associate professor at Ivy Tech. They have one adult son who lives in Chicago. Howard's professional experience includes leadership and strategic planning, professional presentations, data analysis, and grant writing. He has a bachelor's degree from DePauw University; a master's in public affairs from Indiana University, and has completed all requirements for a doctorate of dducation except the dissertation from Indiana University.

"With the exception of the past four years when we were living in the Denver area, I am a lifelong Hoosier," said

Howard. "My family visited Clifty Falls State Park several times over the years, and in a previous life, I worked for Ivy Tech Community College and visited the campus, so we knew that Madison and Jefferson County is a wonderful and scenic community."

"As far as the Healthy Communities Initiative, a good foundation has been laid. My goal is to take it up to the next level, to continue to expand the partner base, and to make a positive difference in the lives of Jefferson County residents," said Howard.

2 men arrested on drug-related charges

Courier staff report

The Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, Indiana State Police, and Scott County Sheriff's Department arrested two people Wednesday on drug-related charges.

Perry Gammons, 41, of Madison, and Christopher S. Boyle, 37, of Lexington, were arrested during the execution of a search warrant on West County Road 163 N in Deputy.

There was an active warrant out of Clark County for Gammons for failure to appear, said a news release from the sheriff's department.

Officers found Boyle in possession of methamphetamine and marijuana.

Both were taken to the Jefferson County Jail. The news release said Gammons will be taken to Clark County to face his failure to appear charge.

Both were still in custody Friday evening.

Reds reach deal with Casali

CINCINNATI (AP) - Catcher Curt Casali and the Cincinnati Reds agreed to a $950,000, one-year contract that avoided salary arbitration.

Casali, 30, was acquired from Tampa Bay on May 31. He batted .293 in 52 games for the Reds -35starts — with four homers and 16 RBIs. Casali threw out 5 of 24 runners trying to steal. He also made his first career appearances at first base — \sin games — and moved to second base in one game.

He had a $600,000 salary in the major leagues last year.

Ky. offers new elk hunt option

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is offering something new for this year's elk season: a permit that gives archery and crossbow hunters a choice in whether to take a male or female

Gabe Jenkins, the state's elk program coordinator, says the new option should increase the success rate for those hunters.

Kentucky will still offer quota elk hunt permits that include gun hunts for a bull or a cow, along with a youth permit. The cost is $10 to apply for each permit. While hunters may apply for multiple permits, they may be drawn for only one.

For 2019, Kentucky will offer 594 elk permits through its quota drawing. The deadline to apply is April 30.

Cincy picks UCLA's Amaya

CHICAGO (AP) - Major League Soccer's expansion Cincinnati team selected UCLA midfielder Frankie Amaya with the No. 1 pick in the league's SuperDraft on Friday.

Amaya, who has played for the U.S. under-20 team, made 10 starts in 14 appearances as a freshman with the Bruins last season. The 18-year-old had two goals and two assists and was named to the Pac-12 all-conference first team.

Cincinnati had 12 picks in Friday's draft in Chicago as the team builds a roster for its first MLS season.

The San Jose Earthquakes used the second pick in the draft to select forward Siad Haji of VCU. He was named the Atlantic 10 Midfielder of the Year as a junior this season after scoring five goals with 10 assists.

Orlando City took Florida International senior forward Santiago

Rounding out the top five, Dallas selected UNC-Charlotte senior Callum Montgomery, and the Colorado Rapids, who traded up for the pick, took Brazilian forward Andre Shinyashiki, who was the NCAA's scoring leader last season with 28 goals for Denver.

NEW ALBANY — Cooper Yancey became the latest Madison boys basketball player to reach 1,000 career points and provide the lone highlight in an otherwise forgettable game at New Albany for the Cubs.

New Albany scored the first 13 points of the game and led by 18 points before the first quarter had expired to post a 68-42 win over Madison — the Bulldogs' 20th-straight

Yancey, Madison's star senior point guard, was held to just three points in the first half but scored on back-to-back possessions to open the third quarter.

Yancey's second bucket, a step-back jumper at the 7:02mark, pushed him over the 1,000-point mark and made him the 16th player in school history to accomplish the feat. "It was tough. It would have been much nicer to get it with a win," Yancey said. "It's a huge milestone for me but I've got thank my teammates and coaches all the way back to my freshman year and even from before, putting in the work to help me out along the way. It means a lot to me."

"I'm glad he got it but we didn't get to celebrate it like we wanted to," Madison coach Mark McFarland said. "I'm really proud of him and I'm really proud of the way he accomplished it. He's such a good kid. He's not a cocky kid and he's deserving of it. He works hard, puts time in and is a great example of our program."

Other than Yancey's milestone, there was little else for Madison to take away from the game. New Albany dominated every aspect of play and scored seemingly at will in

Terps rally past No. 22 IU, 78-75 By DAVID GINSBURG AP Sports Writer

AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Bruno Fernando had a career-high 25 points and 13 rebounds, Anthony Cowan Jr. scored 24 and Maryland used a second-half surge to rally past No. 22 Indiana 78-75 Friday night.

The Terrapins (14-3, 5-1 Big Ten) trailed by 14 points early in the game and by 10 shortly after halftime before storming back to earn their fifth straight victory.

Two of those wins came against ranked foes — then-No. 24 Nebraska and the Hoosiers (12-4, 3-2), who have lost two in a row following a seven-game winning streak.

Romeo Langford scored 28 points and Juwan Morgan added 14 for Indiana. The Hoosiers shot 12 for 28 in the second half and were outscored 51-40.

After Morgan made the first basket after halftime to go up 37-27, the Terps rattled off 16 straight points - taking their first lead of the game in the process.

Cowan and Darryl Morsell each contributed five points to the surge, and Maryland applied a tight zone defense to force Indiana into nine successive missed shots.

The Terrapins never lost the lead, in part because their only turnover of the second half came with 11 seconds left.

Fernando, a 6-foot-10 sophomore forward, made 11 of 12 shots from the floor to surpass his previous career best of 21 points.

Maryland star freshman Jalen Smith went 0 for 7 during a scoreless first half and finished with 2 points on 0-for-9 shooting, but he contributed 10 rebounds. Indiana bolted to 9-0 lead and led Class 2A No. 1 Southwestern got off to a slow start but Switzerland County's struggles in the second quarter allowed the Rebels to blitz the Pacers 24-8 en route to a 79-51 Ohio River Valley Conference win on Friday night in Hanover.

The Rebels trailed 14-13 after the first quarter but outscored the Pacers 66-37 over the final three quarters for their fifth-straight win of the season including their second over Switzerland County. Southwestern won the first match-up 87-47 in the Jefferson County Invitational on Dec. 22.

"When you beat a team by 40 the first time, it's hard to do that again the second time around," Southwestern head coach Jerry Bomholt said. "It took us awhile to get going but as soon as we knocked down a couple shots and got our pressure going, we were able to do a really good job. All-inall I'm fairly pleased."

Switzerland County got a bucket by Dalton Tingle and a three by Damian Breeck to grab a 5-0 lead out of the gate before Southwestern was able to tie the game on five-straight points from Tyler Kramer. The rest of the period however belonged to the Pacers as the Rebels played from behind. Back-to-back layups by Tyler Konkle pushed the Swiss lead to 9-5 and Konkle again came up with a two for an 11-8 advantage. Matthew Williams tied the game on a three but Breeck answered with a trifecta of his own and the Pacers ended up on the right side of a 14-13 period.

But as well as the Pacers played in the first quarter they fell apart in the second. Switzerland County fouls quickly piled up early on in the second quarter and quickly took a toll.

Two starters — Konkle and Coby Chase — picked up two fouls apiece while Landon Wilks, a third

Chiefs aim to rewrite playoff history vs nemesis Colts

NFL/CLASSIFIEDS

By DAVE SKRETTA AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Given the postseason history involving Indianapolis and Kansas City over the years, Andrew Luck and the Colts have every reason to feel confident heading to Arrowhead Stadium on Saturday. The Chiefs have every reason to believe they're due.

Four times the teams have met in the playoffs, twice in the wild-card round and twice with a spot in the AFC title game on the line. Each time the Colts emerged victorious. All but one were down-tothe-wire nail-biters, one a record-setting shootout and another a defensive slugfest, and each left Colts fans feeling euphoric and Chiefs fans feeling cursed.

Asked whether he understood the magnitude of the next installment in the one-sided series, Chiefs cornerback Kendall Fuller replied quite simply: "Oh yeah."

"Especially what they've been going through over the years and things like that," he said. "We definitely see how fans feel, what they're expecting and stuff like that."

There was the 1996 wildcard matchup in which Chiefs kicker Lin Elliott missed three field goals and the Colts won 10-7. The divisional showdown in 2003, when the Colts won 38-31 in a game featuring no punts. The 23-8 whitewashing three years later and, most recently, the 45-44 shootout in which Luck led the Colts from a 38-10 second-half hole to beat Andy Reid's first Chiefs team in 2013.

There are still more than a dozen players around who were involved in that game five years ago, yet each acknowledged this week that history has no bearing on what will transpire Saturday. "Obviously they are a great team," said Colts kicker Adam Vinatieri, who has played in the past two playoff games against Kansas City. "They've won a lot of games. They've got a very explosive offense. They've got probably the best returner in the National Football League with (Tyreek)

"We are going to have to play our best game," Vinatieri said, "to try to keep up with them."

The Chiefs happen to believe the same thing.

Yes, they earned the No. 1 seed with their third consecutive AFC West title, and have arguably the game's best young quarterback in Patrick Mahomes. Hill joins Travis Kelce, a healthy Sammy Watkins and running backs Spencer Ware and Damien Williams in giving him plenty of weapons, while a defense that's been statistically poor also has more sacks than any other team.

Yet the Colts, the sixth and last seed in the playoffs, may be the hottest team playing. They rebounded from a 1-5

CHIEFS DEFENSE — OVERALL (31), RUSH (27), PASS (31) STREAKS, STATS AND NOTES — Colts have as many playoff wins at Arrowhead Stadium (2) as Chiefs. ... Chiefs are 0-4 against Indianapolis in postseason. ... Kansas City led NFL in scoring efficiency at 52.9 percent. Indianapolis was sixth at 41 percent. ... Chiefs led NFL in scoring at 35.3 points per game. Colts were fifth at 27.1 points. ... Colts have won five straight and nine of 10 overall. They joined 2015 Chiefs as only NFL teams to win playoff game after 1-5 start with 21-7 victory over Texans.... Indianapolis has not allowed 100-yard rusher this season. ... Colts K Adam Vinatieri, 46, has NFL record for FGs made (56) and is second in games (31) and wins (21). ... Colts had four players with 50-plus catches for fifth time in franchise history (Ebron, T.Y. Hilton, Nyheim Hines, Chester Rogers). Colts' Andrew Luck joined Matt Ryan (2016) and Drew Brees (2018) as only QBs to throw TD passes to 13 targets in single season. ... Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes led NFL with seven games with 100-plus passer rating. Luck was third with five. ... Mahomes set franchise record for TD passes (50), TD-INT differential (plus-38) and 300-yard passing games (10).

start to win nine of their last 10 games to reach the postseason, then dominated the Houston Texans last week with a bludgeoning ground game and stingy defense.

"The way this locker room has prepared," Luck said, "it's all about just getting better, getting better. ... It takes no heroes. You don't need a hero, whether it's a playoff game or a regular-season game. It's just everybody doing their jobs that get things done."

Of course, having a little playoff karma never hurts. The Colts certainly have that when it comes to Kansas City, while the Chiefs believe they long ago hit their quota of misfortune.

"All of us feel like we are here now and focused on the present day," Mahomes said, "and we feel like we have a different team, and that we can go out there and win a big football game."

SPEAKING OF MA-HOMES

Colts coach Frank Reich played 13 seasons in the NFL, and has spent most of the past decade working with quarterbacks. And he had high praise for Mahomes, who shattered just about every Chiefs passing record this season.

"I've heard people use the term 'generational arm talent.' I think that's really true," he said. "As a former quarterback, I don't say that about too many people. I don't throw that term out real easily. I think he's a legit generational arm talent."

MACK TRUCK

Colts running back Marlon Mack ran for a franchise playoff record 148 yards in their 21-7 win over the Texans. Now, he gets to face a Chiefs rush defense that was last in the NFL in just about every statistical category. "I think that's an indication of how our entire offense played," Luck said. "It's a combination of Marlon and the offensive

FAMILIAR FACES

Much of the credit for the Colts' turnaround belongs to general manager Chris Ballard, who worked in Kansas City's front office before taking over in Indianapolis. It was Ballard that orchestrated two solid drafts and rebuilt the Colts defense. "I'm not surprised," Reid said. "He's got the energy to go get it. The energy and the eye to see it and go get it. That's important."

WHAT A RUSH

Chiefs defensive tackle Chris Jones had 15 1/2 sacks this season, while linebacker Dee Ford has 13 sacks and seven forced fumbles. But one of the most productive rush tandems in the NFL should have its hands full with an offensive line that allowed sacks on an league-low 2.7 percent of pass plays. "We're ready for the challenge," Ford said.

HEALTH CHECK

Colts wide receiver Ryan Grant (toe) has been ruled out, while defensive lineman Tyquan Lewis is doubtful with a knee injury. The big question for the Chiefs is strong safety Eric Berry, who did not practice all week with a recurrence of the heel injury that sidelined him much of the season. He was listed as questionable on the final injury report.

starter, picked up three fouls. With all three on the bench and Southwestern starting to hit its shots, the Rebels were able to crank up their pressure and start creating turnovers and basketball and the game snowballed on the Swiss from there.

Tyler Kramer dropped in four points for a 17-14 lead and Southwestern never trailed again. Kramer and Foster Mefford scored eight points each in what was a 24-8 period for the Rebels as Southwestern used a pair of 7-0 runs to lead 37-22 at halftime.

"The foul trouble was huge," Switzerland County coach Adam Dennis said of the second quarter. "If we can keep guys on the floor it's a lot better for us. We played really well in that first quarter but then we had to take guys off the floor. The game was called really weird tonight. Southwestern got us to turn the ball over after and we got timid and they went on a run."

Southwestern opened the third quarter with an 18-4 run and the lead blossomed as shots continued to fall. Williams continued a hot streak from the 3-point line, burying two more, while Mefford added six points and Austin Kramer hit an early three off an assist from brother Tyler.

The fourth quarter started much of the same way despite the Pacers getting back into a bit of a rhythm. Williams scored Southwestern's first eight points and the Kramers combined for another seven. The Rebels ballooned to as much as 31 points before Switzerland County was able to cut the deficit back to the final 28-point margin.

We used about five or six defenses tonight but I thought our halfcourt trap was probably our best thing that happened to us and once we grabbed the lead we relaxed a little bit."

Williams led all scorers with 26 points on 10-of-15 shooting including a 6-of-10 from the perimeter. Tyler Kramer went for 22 points while Mefford added 14.

The Rebels finished with 10 3-pointers and shot 52 percent from the field. Southwestern's 11-of-11 from the foul stripe marked the Rebels' thirdstraight game without a miss at the free-throw line.

Konkle hit 9-of-12 from the field and finished with 19 points for the Pacers. Breeck added 14 points.

HURTS BOTH WAYS: Southwestern's Austin Kramer (left) grimaces while colliding with Switzerland County's Tyler Konkle on a drive to the basket Friday night in Hanover. Konkle was whistled for the blocking foul on the play and early foul trouble proved costly to the Pacers in a 79-51 loss to the Class 2A No. 1 Rebels. (Staff photo by Mark

CAM fends off Bulldogs late for 53-49 win on road

Christian Academy of Madison shook off a rough first quarter to outscore Cornerstone Christian Academy 18-8 in the second en route to a 53-49 win on Friday night in Shelbyville, Kentucky.

Cornerstone led 11-6 after the opening quarter but CAM kept it close from there on, leading 24-19 at halftime and 41-38 after three quarters before the Bulldogs caught the Defenders and took the lead in the fourth quarter.

Freshman guard Clay Carter hit 3-of-4 at the foul line late in the game to tie the contest and junior forward Luke Carter hit a baseline jumper to push the Defenders on top for good.

The Bulldogs had a shot to tie or retake the lead late but missed the shot and CAM's David Kummer yanked down a big defensive rebound, was fouled and hit and both free throws to seal the win.

Madison had three players in double figures as Trent Haggard and Luke Carter led the way with 14 points each while Haggard completed his double-double with 10 rebounds. Kummer added 11 points and COURIER STAFF REPORT Clay Carter was just a point back with nine.

Cornerstone's Jackson Jeffries led all scorers with 17 points to go with 10 rebounds and Brandon Lopesilvero added 15 for the Bulldogs.

The win lifts CAM's season record above .500 at 9-8 but the Defenders will have to wait until next weekend for a shot to improve in that. Today's game with Horizon Christian has been canceled due to weather so the Defenders' next contest will be a Southern Roads Conference game at Cannelton on Saturday, Jan. 19.

Hoosiers

HURTS SO GOOD

Alabama backup quarterback Jalen Hurts watched the game with new Maryland football coach Michael Locksley.

Hurts entered his name into the NCAA transfer portal earlier this week and is checking out possible destinations. Locksley was the offensive coordinator at Alabama, so player and coach know each other well.

During the first half, when Locksley was shown on the scoreboard screen, many of the students shouted in unison, "We want Jalen!" BIG PICTURE

necessarily an unusual occurrence in the Big Ten, the Hoosiers are a completely different team on the road (1-4) than at home (10-0). After playing brilliantly at the outset, Indiana unraveled during a horrid second half. Maryland: The young, inexperienced Terrapins appear to have grown up. Undaunted by an early deficit against a ranked and storied college basketball team, Maryland played lightsout over the final 19 minutes on both ends of the floor.

UP NEXT Indiana hosts Nebraska on Monday night (TV: Live on FS1 at 6:30 p.m.), the only meeting between the schools this season.
